JACK JOHNSON COMING BACK

DAVIS AND GRIMES NOT PRISONERS

SAYS DEMPSEY AND CARPENTER MUST FIGHT HIM BEFORE CLAIMING THE HIGH HONORS.

By the Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion of the world, plans to return at once to the United States to face charges pending against him in Chicago, according to a letter shown the Associated Press correspondent yesterday, by Johnson. The former champion is confident he can arrange legal difficulties in time to fight Jack Dempsey before the latter meets Georges Carpentier of France and he asserts that they must first meet him before they can claim the world's championship.

The letter by the former champion was written by him to Chas. Cline, United States district attorney, in Chicago. Jack Johnson was tried in Chicago early in 1913 on charges of having violated the Mann act, and being convicted was sentenced to a year's imprisonment in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas. Johnson appealed, but before the case was argued he forfeited his bail bond of $15,000 by fleeing to Montreal, Canada. Late in June, 1918, he sailed for Europe and has not been on American soil since that time.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Charles F. Cline, United States district attorney, who prosecuted Jack Johnson on a charge of violating the Mann act, said today he had received no communication from Johnson since he fled from Chicago.

Mrs. Cline would not comment on the probable reception of Johnson should he follow out his announced intention to return to Chicago and face the charges against him.

Examination of Teachers Being Conducted Today

An examination for teachers is being held today in the office of County Superintendent A. Floyd. Only eight applicants for licenses to teach are taking the examination, which is about the usual number to take the mid-winter examination.

The City Manager Plan

Did you ever stop to think what, as a whole, the city manager system of city government means, and what it would bring about? Most reforms are gauzy and indefinite. All parties and most outside movements appeal to the people with programmes expressed only in terms of generalities and platitudes. Let us try to get a bird's eye view of what the conduct of affairs is in a city under the managerial plan. Because of the successful operation of the plan in many other cities this is not difficult.

The main principle, of course, is that the business of the people would be transacted as the business of a well-managed corporation is carried on. A general manager, chosen for fitness and experience only, and well paid for his work, would control and conduct the whole administration of public affairs.

This manager would select his assistants just as the president of a railroad or an ordinary business corporation selects his head of departments. They in turn would employ only such help as they needed, and would appoint these subordinates because they were the most competent who could be found. Thus the forces would be settled on the ground of fitness and efficiency.

The policies to be pursued would be determined by public opinion as represented by the councilmen elected by the people. The city manager would not be a political boss, but only an executive and administrator for the people. He would stop the waste of public funds, make every dollar go as far as three go now, and see that things were done well done. It would always be for the people to say what these things should be.

This system would be sensibly and honestly financed. For the city as a whole there would be a budget, apportioning appropriations in advance. That would settle the tax rate. And each department would also present and have approved its own budget, to be expended as directed. Simple, economical, effective. Does it not appeal to you?

GERMANS SCARED WRITE ALLIES

BERLIN GOVERNMENT VISIBLY CONCERNED OVER EXTRA-DITION OF GERMANS ACCUSED OF OFFENCES

By the Associated Press

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—Indication of the government's growing concern over the extradition of Germans accused of war offenses was given in the note sent to the Allies today, asking revision of clauses of the Versailles treaty.

The attempted assassination of Minister of Finance Erzberger is viewed in official circles as an indication of what is likely to happen on a large scale, if the government, yielding to the Allies, resorts to force in arresting the men on the list submitted by the Allied powers. Editorial and partisan recriminations provoked by the attack on the finance ministers have already reached the white heat stage.

The Associated Press is informed that even responsible officials of the foreign office have announced point blank they will refuse to execute any word connected with the extradition formalities and they threaten to strike or indulge in "passive resistance."

A leading official of the foreign office expressed doubt today that a man could be found in Germany from an ordinary officer of its navy or army to a village deputy who would lend himself to the work of executing a warrant for the arrest or deportation of fellow countrymen to be dragged before a foreign tribunal.

Italians Agree With Strikers.

Treaty Negotiations Later.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Negotiations between democratic and republican leaders of the senate who apparently have reached a deadlock on the peace treaty compromise will not be submitted until tomorrow. Senator Lenroot, republican, of Wisconsin, declared today.

There were indications that some senators might welcome the delay and there were many conferences during the day to perfect plans for the committee meeting which may bring a final showdown on the question of continuing the negotiations.

LOAN 'EM THIS ONE.

The News is anxious that its subscribers who have been imposed upon from time to time, by neighbors wanting to borrow their paper, make it a point, if possible, to loan them this issue. We are anxious that they get this number because we want them to know what we think of them. Not that our thoughts are bad, but we want them to know how it bores YOU to have them eternally borrowing your paper when you can hardly refuse them. Mr. Borrower, your neighbor don't want to loan his paper. He wants it for himself or he wouldn't subscribe for it. Why don't you subscribe, just like he does, and in so doing not only give the News a wider circulation but at the same time keep the good will of your neighbor. Your neighbor has told us that he is tired of having you borrow his paper, and we are telling you about it in order to relieve him of an unpleasant job. Come clean, subscribe for your home paper, and in so doing make us feel good, keep the friendship of your neighbor, and at the same time feel good yourself.

FOOD RELIEF SQUABBLE ON

DEDUCTIONS IN AMOUNT ASKED FOR SUFFERERS CAUSES A SQUABBLE IN OFFICIAL CIRCLES.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Recommendations that only $2,000,000 of the $150,000,000 loan proposed for food relief in Poland, Austria and Armenia be granted was made today by Secretary Glass, appearing before the house committee.

Mr. Glass said the reduction had been discussed in conference with Herbert Hoover, who was quoted as saying that the $150,000,000 suggested by the committee would "do more harm than good."

Assistant Secretary Davis told the committee that deduction was made possible by Great Britain agreeing to provide the ships for the transportation of the food. He added that Argentina and Canada had "signified a willingness" to participate and estimated that $10,000,000 would be provided them.

BOUNDARY DISPUTE IN ACUTE STAGE

GOV. HOBBY DECLINES TO DISCUSS ALLEGED ORDER FROM OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR IN CONTROVERSY.

By the Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 29.—Gov. W. P. Hobby today declined to discuss reports that Governor Robertson of Oklahoma will deputize as many men as are necessary to carry out orders of the Tillman county district court in the Texas-Oklahoma boundary dispute.

When asked if the Texas Rangers who now occupy the disputed land are under orders to hold it, Gov. Hobby said he had issued no orders to the Rangers except those first given them when they left Austin, and those orders were that the Rangers were to preserve law and order in the district to which they were sent.

Late yesterday the attorney generals of Texas and Oklahoma agreed after a telephone conversation that testimony in the dispute shall be taken before a commission to be appointed by the United States supreme court upon recommendation and agreement of both attorneys general.

Pontotoc Boy On Steamship Sunk In the Atlantic

The S. S. Powhatan, recently disabled in mid-ocean and forced to return to port, carried with it an Ada boy, David Clapp, the son of D. Clapp, who lives near Ada. After serving thru the war with the First Division and participating in some of the heaviest fighting on the western front and having been decorated for gallantry in action, young Clapp recently re-entered the service and had started back to Europe on the Powhatan. Concerning his experience he writes to his parents:

"I was just about all in when I got off the boat yesterday. I will tell you about my start to Europe. We left here Friday, the 16th, on the S. S. Powhatan for Antwerp. The first two days out everything was fine. On Sunday we had a big storm. It was a bad one, too—the wind was blowing about 125 miles an hour and it was snowing. Finally our ship sprung a leak and the water began to come in. The water got into the engine room and put out the fire, and there we were.

We began pumping the water out, but it came in faster than it could be pumped out. It got 21 feet deep in the ship. We drifted six days without food or water, for our fresh water tank burst and lost all our drinking water. We drifted down pretty close to the coast of New Foundland and were 127 miles from Halifax when some ships found us. The S. S. Northern Pacific was on its way back to New York from Europe and came to our assistance. It reached us just in time as our ship was sinking. The captain told us our ship was sinking and we would have to leave it. As we began to leave the ship I began to feel a little bit funny. I looked down at the cold water and over at the otherships. I made a good jump and caught a raft right away. Most of the sailors were singing when they left the ship. We were soon picked up by the Northern Pacific.

We are now here at Camp Merritt where we will draw new clothes and equipment and get ready to start over again. I'll never forget the Powhatan. She sank not very far from where the Titanic went down."

HOW BIG A PLACE IS THIS?

Often the stranger has asked you that question. Just as often you had puffed out your chest, beamed a smile of civic pride and answered, "Oh, between ten and twelve thousand."

You never travel but someone inquires: "How large is Ada?"

The answer you must give for the next ten years is being decided now. The census enumerators, through no fault of theirs, but because Ada people are constantly moving into better homes or into homes just completed, have missed hundreds of citizens.

You want Ada to have credit for every person living within the city limits. If you think the enumerators have missed you or some friend, call telephone No. 506 NOW.

There is no time to lose. Do your duty.

FAMOUS BANDIT GOES TO THE DEATH CHAIR WITHOUT THE ADVICE OR AID OF CLERGY BY REQUEST

By the Associated Press

OSSINING, New York, Jan. 29.—Gordon Fawcett, Hamby, twenty-six years old, confessed murderer, bank robber and train bandit will go to the death chair in Sing Sing prison tonight without the aid of clergy if his wishes are respected by Major Lewis Lawes, warden. A request to this effect was transmitted to the warden for Hamby today by a member of the death watch.

The iron nerved prisoner whose career took him from coast to coast and ended in Washington with his arrest for the murder of two bank employees during a $13,000 robbery of the Brooklyn Savings Bank in December 1918, began his last day on earth with apparent indifference to his fate. Hamby confided to Major Lawes last night that he planned to commit suicide today. He changed his mind, however, he said, because Major Lawes had treated him so square and had been "such a good fellow."

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 29.—Gordon Fawcett Hamby, the bandit who today expired his crimes in the death chair, was arrested in Tacoma, Wash., last June under the name of "Jay B. Allan," after killing a man there in a revolver fight. He was later identified as one of the two robbers who, on December 23, 1918, helped up the East Brooklyn Savings Bank and, after killing two of its employees escaped in an automobile with $13,000.

Extradited to New York and tried for this crime Hamby stood revealed as a self-confessed participant in the robbery of thirteen banks and two trains and many killings. He steadfastly refused to tell anything about his family. He said he preferred to be known as "Allan" and that he was born in 1893 in Alberta, Canada. He declared his parents were dead and that he had two brothers whom he had not seen for five years. He said he was a college graduate and had specialized in psychology.

After Hamby's conviction here, his attorney, against the prisoner's wishes, appealed his case. He obtained the appointment of a commission to determine the bandit's sanity but the higher court affirmed the verdict and he was also found to be "normal". He freely admitted his crimes and said he was wanted in Chicago, San Francisco and other places. After the Brooklyn robbery, Hamby said he met a girl in New York and that they went successively to Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Chicago, California and Tacoma.

"I was surprised the California police did not get me," he said, shortly after being brought East. "Then in Tacoma I got in that political row with 'Bob' Davis and killed him. 'Bob' was a game fellow and I'm sorry I shot him but I was afraid he was going to get me. After that I was all ready to beat it to Shanghai, China, and now here I am."

"I expected to get $50,000 out of the Brooklyn 'job,'" he confessed, "and I was greatly disappointed at the little we did get. This was because my partner did not carry out my instructions. I had ordered him to jump over the rail the minute we entered the place but he was an amateur and wasted too much time. It took him about four minutes to pick up what money we did get when it should not have taken more than a minute."

James M'Graw's Attack Arouses Hamon's Friends

(By J. F. Easley)

A political fight is a severe test of any man.

There are situations which arise which serve to bring to the surface the secret influences that really create the motives that direct the thoughts and acts of the man.

It is interesting to note, in the Hamon and McGraw fight, that McGraw has chosen to attack the benevolent record of Hamon during the war.

In this act he shows a willingness to destroy patriotism that he may float into office on its wreckage.

It is "Lord, anything for office," with him.

I remember when the first Red Cross membership drive was made, the district offices were located here, and we felt a responsibility for the work of ten counties in the southern portion of the state. Jake L. Hamon was requested to see to the organization of Jefferson county.

The first thing he did was to ascertain the quota of Jefferson county, and a check was executed for the full amount and handed to the committee. The check was not accepted because the object of the drive was to find the homes of the friends of America.

We did not know then but what we would have to call back upon these homes for pillows and blankets and bedding, as France has had to do, and it was desirable that "Red Cross" should be taken to the fireside of every friend of the boys over there.

But the incident showed where Hamon's heart was. He not only gave to committees in Ardmore, and every other place where he owned property but he was willing to give the entire quota of a county.

It comes like a revelation now that every county and every community was touched alike and felt the same keen interest and did their own work and went over the top without the necessity of the central committee feeling the burden of organization and responsibility for results.

The activities of those days implanted an Americanism in our hearts that largely swept away partisan politics and we felt them and feel now, that our best friend was the one who gave the most and the whole country should feel grateful to men like Hamon who went into the earth's secrets and brought out wealth that was poured generously into the pockets of the government to aid in the support of the armies in the field.

It is unbecoming men, all of whom laid their fortunes at the feet of the people for military success in those strenuous and trying times, to charge penury and selfishness and lack of patriotism merely that they themselves may ride into office.

It is not our provence to sit in judgment upon McGraw, but we do know, and we have a right to assert, that if every man could have given as Hamon gave, that every war board and every camp service committee would have had more money than they could have used.

The people as a whole owe too much to such men to have them maligned and not resent it.

The field marshal has eyes that penetrate—and miss nothing. He has a grip that makes one wince. His jaw is of the bulldog type.

There's something about his eyes that makes one feel glad he's an American and not a German.

Foch expressed full knowledge of all sub rosa military preparations going on in the fallen empire. No man knows better what perils France may have to face in the future and he is working now to avoid them or at least to postpone them as long as possible.

Recreation is Work.

Foch's chief form of recreation is work. He lives to plan and act. He lives for France. He says little and that little always is to the point. For him the war is not over.

The walls of his room are covered with maps and smaller maps and papers litter his table.

"I must return to my work," said the marshal suddenly, holding out his hand. And our chat was over.

Preparedness applies to the human body as well as to nations. A bottle of Prickly Ash Bitters on the shelf at home is the best and cheapest form of preparedness for indigestion, constipation and kidney troubles. It is the dose taken in time that wards off sickness and saves money. Price $1.25 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Special Agents.

LIST OF AWARDS GIVEN PROBERS

SECRETARY DANIELS SUBMITS 114 NAMES TO SENATORS; AWARDED EIGHT ON OWN INITIATIVE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A list of 114 naval officers designated by Secretary Daniels to receive war service decorations without action by the Knight board was transmitted by the secretary yesterday to Chairman Hale of the senate naval affairs committee which is investigating the whole subject of naval awards. It supplements a list of enlisted men sent to the committee yesterday.

The list of officers showed eight distinguished service medals were awarded by the secretary on his own initiative. The recipients included Rear Admiral Benson, chief of operations during the war; Rear Admiral W. L. Capps, a member of the war industries board, and Thomas A. Edison, president of the naval consulting board. The others with the exception of that awarded to Lieutenant Commander Daniel T. Ghent, who commanded the transport Antilles when she was sunk by submarine October 17, 1917, went to officers who directed the mine sweeping operations in the North sea.

Of the 106 navy crosses, ninety were awarded to officers who served with the mine sweeping forces that cleaned up the North sea barrage. This work the secretary explained, was not completed in time to permit consideration of suitable awards by the Knight board. The remaining navy crosses went to transport commanders, submarine, destroyer and aviation officers.

Secretary Daniels will appear before the committee on Friday when the inquiry in the decoration awards is resumed, the date having been changed from Thursday at the secretary's request.

At eight o'clock Thursday evening last the citizens were called into the dining room where they were seated to hear talks on the possible accomplishments of the Allen Chamber of Commerce, the good things that could be done and the value of such an organization. The address of welcome was delivered by Attorney W. A. Delaney with a response by Rev. T. O. Shanks.

More than 75 members were taken in and after the directors were elected a meeting was called for next Tuesday night, when the club will meet in the city hall with the town board and decide on many matters they did not get to at the last meeting.

ABANDONING A POLICY

For 100 years this country has got along very well without laws against propaganda or political criticism. The government has not had to put down insurrection. There has been no conviction for treason.

The passage of the Sterling or Graham bills or any legislation of this sort would be an abandonment of this nation's settled policy.

Freedom to discuss the government, to criticise its policies, and even to advocate changes in the foundation stone on which our democracy was built. The makers of the constitution took pains to define treason in the constitution itself—it is the only crime mentioned—and to provide that there must be an "overt act" and that there must be safe guards of proof before a conviction could stand.

The Graham and Sterling bills run contrary to the constitution and create the new crime of "Constructive treason" leaving Americans at the mercy of almost any kind of proof—even the bare accusation of subordinate officials—and imposing vicious penalties.

The makers of the constitution felt there was inherent danger in argument. For even in the case of argument advocating force, they felt there was ample time to deal with the matter when the "overt act" had resulted.

When force is opposed to argument the result is tyranny.

The danger that this country shall be impregnated with ideas of revolution from abroad is less than the danger that hysteria and fear shall move congress to pass laws which will be an instrument of Prussianism and charism in the hands of bureaucratic officials—Oklahoma News.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ORGANIZED AT CITY OF ALLEN

By News' Special Service

ALLEN, Okla., Jan. 29.—Allen now has a chamber of commerce.

The citizens of our town met last week at the Metropolitan Hotel where the organization was perfected and the members accepted.

For a good many years Allen has been in need of a Chamber of Commerce but never before has anything been done toward organizing. A few days ago a number of our citizens got together and outlined plans for an immediate organization which resulted in the meeting last week.

At eight o'clock Thursday evening last the citizens were called into the dining room where they were seated to hear talks on the possible accomplishments of the Allen Chamber of Commerce, the good things that could be done and the value of such an organization. The address of welcome was delivered by Attorney W. A. Delaney with a response by Rev. T. O. Shanks.

After officers were elected came the banquet. Much credit is due Mr. Holmes, the hotel manager, for his efforts to make the banquet the grand success that it was, and the interest that was manifested was very intense.

After the banquet came the "fifteen centers" and in conclusion several short comic speeches were made by various citizens, all of which were very amusing and very much enjoyed.

More than 75 members were taken in and after the directors were elected a meeting was called for next Tuesday night, when the club will meet in the city hall with the town board and decide on many matters they did not get to at the last meeting.

BRYAN PLANS WORLD CAMPAIGN ON BOOZE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—William Jennings Bryan has inaugurated a world-wide survey for the "dry" forces, it developed yesterday, and has successfully enlisted the machinery of the state department in a concerted drive to mass facts and figures of conditions in "wet" countries, preparatory to planned campaigns to make the whole world arid.

The full strength of the government's diplomatic forces have been placed at Mr. Bryan's disposal to prosecute the canvass which will not be complete for many months.

High plenipotentiaries and consuls-general have been instructed to make minute studies of prohibition and temperance conditions along many lines. These reports are to be assembled and forwarded to Washington with all possible expedition.

Already diplomats are beginning to make their returns under the "dry" survey. The earliest reports have come from South American capitals, officials believe, may explain in some measure the reasons advanced for an early campaign in that direction. Particular stress was laid upon the importance of returns from Cuba, asked for by Mr. Bryan, and this may be the forerunner of an active campaign there.

Mr. Bryan is in constant touch with the state department in the canvass. As soon as cabled or mailed reports are received they are quickly deciphered, copied and sent to Mr. Bryan, wherever he may be on his speaking tours.

State Convention of Building Trades Men Score the Open Shop

TULSA, Jan. 28.—Three hundred delegates to the state convention of the Building Trades council here yesterday morning heard Police Judge Ed G. Warren, strong labor advocate, flay the open shop as a menace to unionism and industry as a whole, in a hot opening address at the Union temple.

Judge Warren, who has been active in the union stand against the open shop agitation which has been rife here, branded the open shops as a failure and demanded that citizens, whether in the unions or out, take and unqualified stand against it.

At a meeting to be held late this afternoon it is expected that the unions' fight for a uniform scale for all building trades will be launched. It is considered likely that a scale of $1.00 will be demanded. Plasterers receiving $9 in some cities and $12 in others are cited as reason for asking a uniform scale.

Muskeg is represented at the convention by a delegation of five men headed by S. A. Reed.

The convention will last three days.

Houston, Texas.—"After the advent of one of my babies, my health became very poor. I was nervous and so weak I could not do anything, could not eat or sleep and was nothing short of a physical wreck when a friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took several bottles but it was well worth it for it completely restored me to good health. My advice to women who suffer is to give Favorite Prescription a trial, it will surely help them."—Mrs. E. L. Brown, 2414 Freeman St.

San Antonio, Texas.—"After a serious illness, when my strength seemed as though it would not come back to me, I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic. I had seen it advertised and recommended so highly that I felt I could not go far astray. This medicine did all for me that could be desired. It restored me to perfect health and strength in a comparatively short time and I am just as strong and well as can be. Favorite Prescription is a splendid tonic and builder for women and it is a pleasure to me to recommend it."—Mrs. HETIE McLANE, 308 Bowie St.

THE GIRL FROM NOWHERE BRILLIANT ROMANCE OF THE NORTHWEST, TO BE SEEN HERE

When The Girl from Nowhere is shown at the American today lovers of romance and mystery will be satisfied to the utmost.

Thrills, swift and frequent, is one outstanding feature of this picture. The scene is laid in the lawless Northwest. The Girl From Nowhere tells the story of a beautiful young woman who is found wandering aimlessly through the woods by friendly Indians. They bring her to the little mining town of Hellwell, where she is committed to the care of a big-hearted fellow named Diamond Terry.

Her memory of the past is blotted out. The great secret of who she is lies somewhere in the depths of the voiceless mountains. Her beauty is the cause of the tribulations through which she passes. In the end, untouched by the hands of those who would harm her, the mystery of her identity is solved, and she is saved at the last moment from being forced into a marriage with the man who has caused all her unhappiness.

Cleo Madison, one of the most strikingly beautiful women of the screen, plays the part of the "mysterious Gal," with the grace and impressiveness of a great artist. Wilfred Lucas has the role of Terry. In his hand the part of this golden hearted knight of the rugged northland has become a character of rare and exquisite charm.

The scenic settings are extremely pretentious.

If You Love Excitement, Romance and Thrills, See The Girl From Nowhere, advises Manager of American Theatre.

LANDMARKS PASSING

One of the tragedies of civilization is that time and the elements sooner or later make inroads on the milestones, the landmarks, that mark progress from age to age, from generation to generation. The ancient cities of Greece, the magnificent columns of Pompey, the amphitheaters of royal Rome, have all passed into dust through natural decay or the outbreak of nature.

And while it may seem a far-fetched comparison to some, we feel the same sense of regret in the passing of the old Armstrong academy near Hugo in Choctaw county.

Armstrong academy was one of the relics of a former day in our span of time. It marked a generation that is passing. Established in 1849 as a Choctaw Indian council house and turned into a school for Indian children in 1865, it has sheltered nearly all the prominent Choctaws of the day race.

Living so close to the Indians of today we scarcely note how time is transforming them into the new type of American, leaving little trace of the traditional and historic Red Man of half a century ago.

Armstrong academy has burned. The old treaty house at Atoka will soon be a ruin, the early burying grounds are gradually being effaced. The old Indian school near Shawnee is to be remodeled and turned into a soldier hospital. Before we realize it there will be nothing of the distinctive landmarks, and only history will depict to our children and grandchildren what we may hold in memory.—McAlester News-Capital.

THE OCELOTS.

"Let's go hunting," said O. Ocelot. "All right," said O. O. Ocelot.

So they started off, their yellowish bodies and their black spots, their long tails and the stripes around their necks and backs making them look much like their distant cousins, the leopards.

"We have another name," said O. Ocelot.

"Have we?" said O. O. Ocelot. "It doesn't make much difference to me, for we can't eat another name."

"Not unless we should eat ourselves," said O. Ocelot, "and that would not do."

"No, that would not be pleasant," grinned O. O. Ocelot. "What is our other name, by the way?"

"We are also called the tiger cats," said O. Ocelot. "And if we should eat tiger cats we would be eating ocelots and that would be very foolish."

"Very," agreed O. O. Ocelot.

"Of course," said O. Ocelot, "we are sometimes like tigers, and we are sometimes like cats, and we are decidedly of the enormous cat family."

"Why do you say the enormous cat family?" asked O. O. Ocelot. "Cats aren't all enormous by any manner of means, and even then, the biggest members of the cat family aren't enormous, such as I've heard giraffes and elephants and camels were."

"That's so," said O. Ocelot, "but I wasn't speaking about the size of the different members of the family. I meant that there were a great many different cats and a great many of each special family, like the ordinary domestic cats, and the tiger family, and so forth.

"There aren't so many of us as there are of some of the others, because we only live in a few places, and they can find us all out sooner or later, probably."

"Don't they like us?" asked O. O. Ocelot.

"Well," said O. Ocelot, "they aren't very fond of us. You see, we go after the poultry farms, and that makes them mad."

"We hunt at night, and so it is hard to get us, and that makes them mad. We will go great distances, too."

"Ah, yes, the night time is the time for hunting," said O. O. Ocelot. "And I will go any distance for a good meal and a good, satisfactory night, killing lots of creatures."

"How I do like birds, and rabbits, and mice, and rats of the wooded places."

"Then, too, I like snakes, I really love snakes."

"So do I," said O. Ocelot. "A good snake, a delicious, big one, is very fine for dinner, and then one can have it again for breakfast and for lunch and again for dinner."

"Haven't some of our relatives gone to zoos?" asked O. O. Ocelot.

"Yes, they have been caught and taken to the zoos, where they could be looked upon by boys and girls and men and women," said O. Ocelot.

"How have they taken to zoo life?"

"They've liked it, for, you know, we are rather bored if we are caught. We don't get as angry as folks might think."

"But let's be off," said O. O. Ocelot, "for I feel an empty place in my tummy which could be filled nicely by a piece of snake or a chicken or two. I would feel better after a meal."

"Yes," said O. Ocelot, "so would I. I must get my meals at night when all is dark, for I love the night time, and when it is bright and folks can see one, I like to hide away in the thick, dark woods, where I can't be seen, and where I can eat and sleep."

"We must be off," said O. O. Ocelot.

"Off for a night hunt," said O. O. Ocelot, "and may we meet only chickens and snakes and mice and rats, and no people! We don't mind if the chickens and snakes and mice and rats are found to be asleep, and we don't care if they don't speak to us when we speak to them. No, we're not going hunting for conversation or talking, no, no, indeed."

Father's Revolt.
The college-bred daughter reproved her father for dropping his "g's."

"Have I been droppin' them?" he asked innocently.

"There you go again, father—dropin'. And you say 'comin'' and 'goin'' and 'eatin''. It's humiliating."

"Daughter," said the old man, after a thoughtful pause, "may I drop the final 'g' in 'egg'?"

BUTLER ATTACKS THE COMMISSION

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION SCORED IN PHILADELPHIA BY PROSPECTIVE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

By the Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—An attack on the federal trade commission was made before the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce tonight by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and an aspirant for the Republican nomination for president.

Discussing the necessity of clearing away uncertainties in public policy that hamper business, he said:

"We have at the present time a federal trade commission appointed pursuant to the provisions of a statute which might easily be so administered as to do great good. The Federal Trade Commission has, however, utterly misconstrued its proper functions and has preferred to persecute business rather than to protect and develop it. The cheaply won applause which is sure to follow the violent denunciation of somebody or something for an alleged wrong has been preferred to the much more solid and lasting approval of an intelligent people that would follow upon constructive acts which should indicate how the business of the country might be better and more wisely developed.

"It is little short of pathetic, after some of the best brains in the nation have organized and set on foot a great industrial undertaking which engages the cooperation of thousands of men and women, reduces the cost of production of some staple article, and begins to extend American trade into new lands, to find them summarily brought to book as criminals by the Attorney General of the United States or by the United States District Attorney in some judicial district.

"The course of wisdom and of progress would be for the Commission to hear the plans of those who propose to develop on undertaking of this sort; to point out in advance what would be considered unfair business practices and what would not; to indicate the line where monopoly would be held to begin, and which therefore must not be crossed; and then to send the new undertaking on its way with the full knowledge and cooperation of the Federal Trade Commission, with which, thereafter, the undertaking should stand in the closest possible relations."

"Such a policy by the commission, Dr. Butler said, would simply repeat in the field of industry the precise policy which the government has followed with extraordinary success in the case of National Banks.

Besides doubt as to what might be done without prosecution under the Sherman or Clayton act, he added, business was confronted with uncertainty as to labor. To remove this he suggested the establishment at Washington of a commission on industrial relations to represent the public alone, which should make findings and recommendations in labor disputes. The doors of this commission, he said should be open to wage workers, employers, or to anybody of individual citizens or to the Attorney General of the United States.

Arguing that public opinion would be sufficient to enforce the commission's recommendations, he said, the United States Supreme Court could not enforce its decrees against a state, but nevertheless such decisions had been obeyed, and that the rules of international law existed in time of war had wide application.

He expressed a warning note against the building up of "huge political machines in order to maintain and increase the points of contact between government and business."

"The unchecked development of such a tendency," he said, "would in time completely alter the American business. It is perfectly easy by following such a course as outlined to transfer a democracy into an autocracy of office holders and inspectors. Nominally this autocracy would represent and carry out the wish of the people, but actually it would be a tyranny of an office holding class."

STILL WASTING BILLIONS

Senator McCumber said something in the senate the other day that deserves the sober consideration of every citizen. He said by way of introduction that the saw and axe should be applied to appropriation bills. He then gave instances of how great sums might be saved by the introduction of congressional economy. He named the departments in which the savings might be effected and mentioned the sums that might be saved.

In the treasury department, asserted the North Dakota senator, it is possible to save $300,000,000. Another saving of $700,000,000 is possible in the war department. By sensible pruning of appropriation bills $140,000,000 could be saved in the public works program. Seventy-five million dollars can be saved from the road building appropriations. He heartily advocates the abolition of the shipping board and the immediate discharge of 50,000 government clerks who are not busy and not needed.

Such assertions from a fire-alarm senator seeking notoriety would mean nothing, but coming as they do from a level-headed conservative like McCumber, such assertions challenge instant attention. The substance of his speech is that this nation is wasting considerably more than a billion dollars a year. If congress can lighten the burden of taxation by saving that much money, it is positively criminal for congress not to save it.

During a long career of infamous littleness Reed of Missouri never sank so low in the filth of his own dirty pusillanimity as when he made his recent attack on Herbert Hoover. It is not the first time that the moral bankrupt from Kansas City has achieved notoriety by maligning the servants of the republic. But on no former occasion did he deliver himself of such reeking slander on such little provocation. There was neither excuse nor justification for the attack on Hoover, who is neither an official nor an issue. His only offense is that he served humanity in the day of calamity with an efficiency that won the praise of the world. His friends are the maids and babes of Belgium whom he saved from death by an energetic and disinterested application of brains and courage to a baffling problem. But his humane activity does not protect him from the slime of character assassins. Rather do they serve to draw the filth of ingrates and the contumely of blackguards. His very reputation for honesty and efficiency attracted the attention of mongrels who seek to achieve notoriety by besmirching the name of better men. Men trained in the school of defamation by defending coke-heads and prostitutes in a city police court cannot be deterred by any sense of decency from assaulting the benefactors of mankind.

It is now announced from the inner temple that if General Wood controls the Chicago convention, the McGraw delegates from Oklahoma will be seated, but if Wood fails to control the convention, the Hamon delegates will be seated. Which gives the citizens who voted for McGraw or Hamon in the precinct caucuses a brilliant understanding of just what votes count for in political battles. Our primary law has many imperfections, but with all that, it does not leave the counting of the ballots to a partisan convention. As it stands today ninety-nine per cent of the republicans of Oklahoma might vote for Hamon and his delegates and yet have their votes thrown out by a national convention controlled by Leonard Wood. And the same might happen if the state should vote solidly for McGraw. Such a system may have its apologists, but it is nothing in the world but organized larceny.

When President Wilson appeared before congress on April 2, 1917, to recommend a declaration of war against Germany, three senators of all the great audience present failed to stand and refuse to applaud. Of those three who so marked themselves two have since been called by death. These two were William J. Stone of Missouri and Harry Lane of Oregon. The third was LaFollette of Wisconsin.

There is absolutely no question that Oklahoma is the greatest state that exists or ever did exist. For instance this is the only state in the union where a man could start the story that Jake Hamon is a pillar of the Presbyterian church and get away with it.

Uncle Sam is to permit the prescribing of whiskey for influenza patients in Oklahoma City. We were about to predict a considerable exodus to the state capital, but after reading along we withhold such prediction. Under the regulations only one pint in ten days is permitted to each patient. Any person who really feels the need of booze to the extent of pretending to have the "flu" in order to get a supply thereof would be merely tantalized by one pint in ten days. —Ardmoreite.

Sherman, Texas, adopted the city manager form of government several years ago, and we learn that it has been a great help to the splendid growth that city has enjoyed. Several attempts have been made to return to the old form, but the citizenship has stood firm in the cause, and large majorities have been voted in favor of the new plan. What is good for Sherman is good for Durant. Let's try the manager form. —Durant Democrat.

Oklahoma State Bank in Its New Spring Togger

The plumbers, electricians, tile layers and a dozen and one other tinkers have at last been discharged from the interior of the Oklahoma State Bank, Twelfth and Townsend, and the chief architect of the job has pronounced the work of reconstruction finished.

Since late fall of last year this institution has been undergoing a complete change in the matter of rebuilding and rearranging the interior of the bank. Several months ago the adroit president of the institution, C. H. Rives, allowed that the fixtures installed in the bank when the building was erected several years ago had long since been outgrown. And, as a matter of fact, they had, for the bank has doubled its business many times since it was organized and is now recognized as one of the leading financial institutions west of the Mississippi river.

Instead of the wooden frame structures with the marble slabs at the windows, modern marble fixtures now adorn the interior of the bank throughout. Instead of the old concrete floor, popular in the early days, there is the new tiled floor of many colors, indicating that the designer had plans upon the trestleboard that were in keeping with the plans of the housing quarters of the most modern financial institutions of the country.

The outlines and general contour of the office arrangement is square and symmetrical and the space saving feature of the arrangement has been the wonder of every mechanical man who has inspected the job.

The desks of the various officers of the bank are arranged with a view to their importance, and the stranger at first glance will see the bronze name plate on the first desk in view with the inscription, "C. H. Rives, President." The next in importance, and near the front, is that of "L. A. Ellison, Cashier," and so on down the line. Even if you don't know the officials personally, you are able to locate their station, and a few minutes wait at either place will soon bring a response.

A News reporter has attempted for the last several days to get near enough to some of the officers to ascertain, if possible, the technical facts about the new improvements, but on each occasion was rebuffed by a throng of waiting customers which he was unable to penetrate or sidestep. At any rate we know that the Oklahoma State Bank is out in its new spring togs and that it is pleasing to look upon.

Joe Foster Makes Another Raid in the Dark Regions

Joe Foster, newly appointed federal enforcement officer, made another raid in Darktown last afternoon, accompanied by Policeman Wick Adair, and at three places captured and confiscated about 20 gallons of Choctaw beer.

The places visited were that of Ada and Ned Vaughn, Charity Freeeling and Ophelia Watson. When informed that Foster was now working for the government instead of the city, one of the victims exclaimed: "To de Lawd sake, Mr. Joe, et I had known dat you were working to de government I sho wouldn't have had any ob dat stuff heal' when you come."

Mr. Foster says that he was appointed to enforce the law and that if the booze peddlers don't want to get into trouble they will have to move on or else hide the stuff where it can't possibly be found.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—A Chicago theatre today announced it had opened a smoking room for women.

You Can't Afford to Speculate in Clothes These Days

Several years ago you could afford to take a flier on some of these marvelous "bargains" in which price was the main attraction. There wasn't so much involved and if you did not get your money's worth you were not hurt much.

But today with clothing costs going higher the prudent man gives thought to where his money goes; he seeks the safest channels. His clothier is chosen with the same care as his doctor or his lawyer. This class of men come to this store for certain, guaranteed values.

The season's best sellers are here in our clothing department. It is a good thing for you to know them; they come from the best clothes makers; made from the finest materials; all backed by our guarantee.

•••YE TOWN GOSSIP•••

I WAS in the hotel.
WAITING FOR a fellow.
AND NOT doing much.
OF ANYTHING last night.
AND A lot of folks.
WERE JUST arriving.
AND THEY had just come in.
ON THE Katy.
AND I watched them.
AS THEY passed.
THROUGH THE lobby.
AND THERE was one couple.
A MAN and a woman.
AND THEY came in.
AND HE carried one bag.
WHILE THE woman.
CARRIED ANOTHER one.
AND I didn't know.
BUT IT looked to me.
AS THOUGH the woman.
WAS CARRYING the heavier one.
AND WHEN they.
WERE IN the lobby.
HE DROPPED his suitcase.
WITHOUT SAYING a word.
AND WENT up to the desk.
AND REGISTERED.
AND CAME back.
AND SAID something.

TO THE woman.
AND ALL I could hear was:
"YOU'VE GOT."
"ABSOLUTELY NO sense."
AND A few other remarks.
OF THAT nature.
AND HE went back.
TO THE desk again.
AND TALKED to the clerk.
AND THEN he started.
TO GO upstairs.
AND MOTIONED to the woman.
AND SHE picked up.
BOTH THE suitcases.
AND STARTED up the steps.
AFTER HIM.
AND I'M no detective.
OR OLD Sleuth.
OR ANYTHING like that.
BUT I'M willing to bet.
EVERYTHING I'VE got.
AND EVERYTHING.
THAT I ever hope to get.
THAT THAT couple.
WERE MARRIED.
AND MARRIED.
MIGHTY THOROUGHLY.
SO TO speak.
I THANK you.

"Sweeter and Dearer," by the restaurant, hotel and bakery folks.

"Yield Not to Temptation," by the lawyers.

"Wash Me Whiter Than the Snow," by the laundry men and dry cleaners.

"The Great Physician," by the doctors.

"Does it Pay?" by the bankers.

"The Home Over There," by the real estate dealers.

And the services closed with "I Love to Tell The Story," by the newspaper men present.

ALLEN, Okla., Jan. 29.—J. E. Dugger, of the Allen Real Estate Co., is one of those kind who will not let opportunity knock unheeded. One night last week Mr. Dugger had a prospective buyer who was compelled to leave Allen on the early morning train because of other pressing business matters, and since he arrived after 9 o'clock in the night, he could not possibly make a deal. He must see the lot first. Not to be outdone because there was no daylight in Allen (or anywhere in America) at that time, Mr. Dugger prevailed upon the man to accompany him to the lot where Mr. Dugger brought forth his dollar fifty flashlight and after a few minutes' conversation and inspection the man bought the lot, paid the money and was on his way on the early train next morning.

State Law Forbids
Issuing of Whiskey
For Flu Patients

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 28.—Regardless of the fact that federal authorities have given permits for the prescribing of whiskey for influenza sufferers, the state prohibition law forbids the dispensing of whiskey for any purpose, H. T. Laughbaum, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in the state, declared yesterday.

New influenza cases reported to the city health department yesterday numbered 369, bringing the total to approximately 750. Leo Menten, secretary of the department, said,

Although many persons made calls upon the United States revenue collector, the United States marshal and the city health department yesterday for whiskey, few got any. The United States marshal declared they had no authority to despatch

SOCIALISTS WOULD SEIZE GOVERNMENT

SUCH IS CONTENTION OF ALBANY, N. Y., CONTINGENT TRYING TO UNSEAT LEGISLATORS.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Proponents of "the dictatorship of the proletariat" hold that the first step must be seizure of the government by any means possible, and the taking over of industry by force, according to a pamphlet read yesterday at the trial before the assembly judiciary committee of the five suspended socialist assemblymen charged with disloyalty.

Prepare for "Dictatorship."

The pamphlet, published by the Jewish socialist federation of New York, was translated from the Hebrew by Charles M. Robinton, a department of justice operative serving the joint legislative committee investigating socialism, who was recalled to the stand today.

Purporting to give views of both proponents and opponents, the pamphlet asserted the former held preparation must be made for "revolution" and "class dictatorship." Upon the seizure of the industries, they would be run by workingmen's soviets, according to the program.

In discussing the topic "the socialists and the democratic state," the pamphlet asked why should socialists enter legislative bodies "where do socialists fit into the state?"

"Socialists," it sets forth in reply, "seek to enter into the government for two reasons: first, to be nearer the doors of the government councils, and, second, to hinder this character of work in any way possible. The first is the more important, as it gives the socialist a chance to see into the strategy better. It is true that not always is this aim reached. The bourgeoisie atmosphere which he breathes gradually infects him and he begins to make compromises."

"A Red Movement."

The pamphlet defines socialism as "a red movement with blood in its veins." Asserting that "in America we have had only the echo of what happened in Europe," the book added, the stage here was still one of "theoretical discussion," and "there is danger the house cleaning will not be as thorough among us as it should be."

"The great task," continued the pamphlet, "is to create an army ready to make social revolution when the movement arrives."

The time for class struggle, it added, is here.

"Until the war socialism was a sort of religion, a heavenly thing which almost had no connection with real life," said the pamphlet.

"The war and the revolutions have entirely changed the condition; from a religion, socialism was transformed into a program of life."

"After the Russian revolution the formula, 'the dictatorship of the proletariat,' was adopted. The Bolsheviks declared that they now believed in this principle, still more than before, and they were ready to realize it."

Under the heading, "The opponents of the dictatorship of the proletariat" the pamphlet says:

Opposite of Democracy.

"The opponents hold that the most sacred thing as an abstract and practical principle is 'democracy.' And since 'dictatorship' is the converse, just the opposite of democracy, it is unclean, filthy."

Under "the defenders of the dictatorship of the proletariat" the pamphlet says:

"The adherents to the principle of 'dictatorship of the proletariat' believe that without this means it will be impossible to reconstruct society from a capitalistic to a socialist system."

"Workingmen cannot depend on peaceful evolution; they must prepare for revolution and class dictatorship."

"The state is a dictatorship anyhow. The state carries out the will of the ruling class. So long as the bourgeoisie is the ruling class, the state is the dictator for the bourgeoisie; when the proletariat will become the ruling class the state will be the dictatorship of the proletariat."

"Don't Believe in State."

"Socialism does not believe in the state. It wants to annihilate it entirely."

"As soon as classes are eliminated the state will have no jurisdiction for existence and it will disappear of itself."

"The socialist movement rouses the working men to revolution; it preaches to them class struggle. When society is ready for the overturn; when the socialist movement feels that the moment has come it will make the revolution."

"The first aim of the socialist must be to seize the government, the state, by whatever means they can succeed in doing this with, and then their rule must establish the dictatorship of the proletariat."

Directed by Wilfred Lucas

"The Girl From Nowhere" is a romance of love, of mystery, of tragedy, of hearts of gold and of cruel villainy.

Swift and wild as a mountain torrent rushes this tale of the Great Northland. In the silence of rugged and majestic nature, a helpless woman is placed at the mercy of the passions of uncouth men—passions unrestrained by the laws of regulated society. But even here on this far flung fringe of civilization, red-blooded manhood stands ready to sacrifice itself to protect defenseless purity.

"The Girl From Nowhere" proves that virtue is stronger than base desires—shows that a heart of pure gold can beat under a rough and rugged breast—and it teaches that no matter how craftily a man may conceal his wrong-doing, in the bitter end his sin will find him out.

"The Girl From Nowhere" is a picture that will stand on its own merits, regardless of what we say in its favor. Without forcing or padding, its five reels gallop dashing forward.

Situations of the most startling and unexpected nature follow in rapid sequence in the development of the story. At last when the main characters become so immersed in the web of terrible difficulties that there seems no way out, the unexpected happens. There is an astounding climax. Honor and Purity prevail.

This picture in the hands of ordinary actors would be a unique dramatic novelty, but with such competent artists as the beautiful Cleo Madison and the brilliant director, Wilfred Lucas, in the leading parts, it becomes one of the most remarkable features of its kind that has ever been produced.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE DEM. WOMEN

THE FOLLOWING RESOLUTIONS STATE THE PRINCIPLES OF THE DEMOCRATIC WOMEN OF THE STATE

The News publishes herewith in full the resolutions read and adopted by the women democrats of the state of Oklahoma, in state convention assembled at Oklahoma City Tuesday, January 27th.

Resolutions

Whereas, the democratic women of Oklahoma in state convention assembled accept the principle of suffrage as a most grave and important duty and are not unmindful of the burdens it entails and are alive to the opportunities it offers, and

Whereas, free from the prejudices that surround those whose lives have been spent in political struggle, and

Whereas, we do believe in the fundamental principles and historic traditions of the democratic party, therefore,

Be it resolved that we do solemnly pledge ourselves to so employ this new privilege that society will be better and our country a better place to live in, and resolve that we pledge ourselves to decide all questions by the rule of reason, seeking only to ascertain what is right, and be it resolved that we do wholeheartedly pledge our support to the grand and glorious principles of the democratic party, and that we thank the democratic men of Oklahoma for their splendid recognition of the women as fellow democrats

Whereas, as we the democratic women of Oklahoma have had a splendid opportunity to learn of the great hospitality of Oklahoma City and whereas, the honorable mayor of the capitol city has so unreservedly handed to us the keys of the city, and bade us take charge, and

Whereas, through the untiring and splendid efforts and forethought of the gracious chairman of the arrangements committee nothing has been neglected to make our stay in the city comfortable.

Be it resolved that we publicly acknowledge these courtesies in our convention assembled.

Whereas Ben F. Lafayette has been untiring in his efforts to bring the women of this state together that they might more readily make for themselves a place in state politics, and

Whereas, his manner has always been courteous and his support immeasurable at all times, be it resolved that we do heartily thank him and publicly express our appreciation of his work.

Whereas, Mrs. Geo. Bass has come to us to add inspiration to our convention and graciously dispensed her knowledge and experience in the highest rank of our party, and

Whereas, through her sincere devotion and earnest effort in support of our cause.

Be it resolved that we the democratic women of Oklahoma do appreciate her splendid effort and encouragement, and her charming presence at this our first state democratic convention of women.

Whereas Mrs. McDougal, our honorable chairman, is our state committeewoman from Oklahoma and truly worthy of any honor we might confer on her therefore

Be it resolved that we endorse her for delegate at large to the national convention at San Francisco

Whereas the women of Oklahoma in 1920 will have their first opportunity to express their choice for chief executive of this nation, and

Whereas Oklahoma has a candidate for this high office who was the master mind in the federal reserve banking and the farm loan acts who has been a continuous supporter of prohibition legislation, a proponent of child labor laws and a pioneer in the woman suffrage movement, he is Oklahoma's choice, not as a favorite son and native, but as a worthy statesman whose brilliant abilities have compelled national recognition and whose conduct and labor command the respect and confidence of the entire country, therefore

Be it resolved that we coming from the very hearthstones of the homes of representative democratic women of Oklahoma do heartily endorse the candidacy of Robert L. Owen for president of the United States of America.

We the democratic women voters of Oklahoma in a women's state convention assembled under the call of the state chairman know this country to be in the seventh year of a democratic administration and by the fruits of this administration we are willing for it to be judged. To the ancient and unfounded republican indictment of incapacity and lack of statesmanship, the democracy pleads the seven years of tenure and work, years replete with great legislation and marked by the performance of large tasks from the establishment of a stable system of national finance to the victorious management of the country's part in the earth's greatest war, greater demands were never made on any party nor heavier tasks imposed but to every demand there has been ready and able response. The fruits of its unbroken faith are the works of merit with which the record abounds. Under the democratic reserve banking law the country has met every financial demand without shock or strain under the fostering influence of wholesome legislation enacted by the democracy, a period of prosperity prevails such as has made America the granary and the banking house of the world. The history of the time is a history of the democratic administration of the United States. The ideals and aspirations of the men of America have been translated into effective service to higher degree during the past seven years than in any other previous administration. In the last half century and of this the directing intellect and masterful spirit has been and is President Woodrow Wilson. The greatest practical leader of his day, at the same time he is the interpreter of the heart and conscience of America to all the world and to all people.

A graver, heavier responsibility never came to any other president than that incident to the World War which fell upon the head and heart of Woodrow Wilson. A monstrous autocracy at that time held twenty-five nations at bay and when came the battle oath of the Marne "they shall not pass" the greatest war of our national history was fought and won under the supreme command and leadership—leadership as consecrated and wise as that of Washington, as faithful to democratic ideals as that of Jefferson—as bold in danger as that of Andrew Jackson—as devoted to country as that of Lincoln—the inspired leadership of Woodrow Wilson. What democrat would deny him, what democrat is there who cannot follow him—a leadership triumphant and splendid in war, his leadership as glorious in peace for the wisdom of its legislation and the beneficence of its handbook. His name will ever shed lustre on the democracy which exalted him to power and wise indeed are the men who follow his leadership in the councils of the nation. The treaty of Versailles and the work of reconstruction are the president's unfinished tasks. This proposed League of Peace is the fruitage of the hopes and dreams of great and good men through the centuries.

Resolved that we endorse the League of Nations in its entirety and pledge our votes against and our opposition to any candidate for the Senate who has obstructed or threatens to obstruct its approval. Therefore be it resolved that we condemn the attitude and challenge the patriotic motives of those Senators who would defeat its ratification, either directly or by overwhelming it with reservations, that are intended to and will have the effect of nullifying it.

Be it further resolved that we, the democratic women of Oklahoma hereby endorse and enthusiastically approve the administration of President Woodrow Wilson.

Whereas both Houses of Congress of the United States were urged by President Woodrow Wilson to pass and did pass the "Susan B. Anthony" amendment, an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, extending the right of suffrage to the women of the United States, when ratified by the legislatures of thirty-six states, and

Whereas twenty-six of the necessary thirty-six states have ratified this amendment either by regular or special sessions of their legislatures, and Whereas this amendment has had the support of the entire Oklahoma delegation at Washington and the earnest endorsement of our great President Woodrow Wilson, and Whereas a majority of both houses of the Oklahoma legislature has heretofore signified their willingness to attend a special session of the legislature of Oklahoma to be called for this purpose alone and to ratify this amendment.

Therefore be it resolved that we, representative democratic women of Oklahoma declare our confidence in our democratic Governor, the Hon. J. B. A. Robertson, and believe that he will call a special session of our legislature for this purpose, to the end that Oklahoma may take her rightful place in bringing to the women of the entire nation the right of suffrage which we now enjoy, and Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Governor Robertson, accompanied by our sympathy in his efforts to govern our splendid state.

Tulsa Tribune for Hoover.
TULSA, Okla., Jan. 29.—The Tulsa Tribune editorially declared that it favored Herbert Hoover for president on the democratic, not on a non-partisan ticket. Richard Lloyd Jones, editor, explained today when shown an Associated Press dispatch which quoted him as saying that Hoover's endorsement of President Wilson assured him of democratic votes, while his progressiveness will give him hearty republican support.

We DON'T reticket our merchandise with every jump of the wholesale market.

Right now we are selling lots and lots of items at 10 to 20 per cent UNDER the market prices—taking less profits by laying more bricks in our foundation of Prestige.

This place is nice. Everything here is very nice. There isn't anything I want that I haven't got here.

Judge Fawcett of Brooklyn, who sentenced Hamby, said he was the "worst" criminal of 6,000 who had come before him in his entire career on the bench. Hamby's "philosophy of life" was embodied in the following statement he made just before being sentenced to die:

"It is nothing for me to die because I am coming back. It may take a few years or it may take several thousand years, of course, but time does not count. Being brought into this world is like being placed in a class of small children, with each trying to compete with the other. Some of us are successful and some are not. As for myself I have 'flunked.'"

The only interest I have is to see that I spend the time from now until I go to the electric chair in smoking, reading and making myself comfortable. I know there is no possible chance of acquittal. Thousands Are MADE HOMELESS

PROHIBITION NOW ON TRIAL

DEATH LIST OF YESTERDAY'S TORNADO SWEEP GROWS AS WIRE COMMUNICATION IS RESTORED.

By the Associated Press CHICAGO, March 29.—Reports today from the states in the middle west, swept by yesterday's tornado, indicate 77 persons lost their lives while thousands were rendered homeless and millions of dollars worth of damage done.

Chicago and its suburbs show the greatest toll of lives—29 being killed, with the greatest loss at Melrose Park, Ill., where wire communication gradually is being restored, reports 24 known dead. It is thought when the rural districts are heard from this figure will be increased. Indiana reported 17 known dead and Michigan reported 5.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Material additions to the known death list of 64 and hundreds of injured and property damage estimated at millions of dollars, seemed probable when restoration of wire communication would permit compilation of accurate reports from the six central west states hit by a series of tornadoes yesterday.

The rural districts of Indiana and Ohio suffered materially. The states wires were prostrated in every direction and it was said it might be days before some communities were heard from.

The Chicago district, with 29 deaths, was the heaviest sufferer according to reports early today. The remainder of the known death list follows:

West Liberty, Indiana, 7.
Fenton, Michigan, 7.
Zulu, Indiana, 5.
Nashville, Ohio, 4.
Greenville, Ohio, 4.
Geneva, Indiana, 3.
and one each at Monroeville, and Townley, Indiana, Hart Michigan, East Trou, Wisconsin, and St. Louis Missouri.

Thousands of persons were made homeless by the destruction of dwellings throughout the six states and outside relief was necessary for a number of places.

Elgin, Illinois, thirty miles west of Chicago, where eight persons were killed, suffered approximately four million dollars damage when the tornado wrecked a large portion of the business quarter, and part of the residence section. Military law was declared in Elgin and former service men volunteered to preserve order and prevent looting.

From Elgin the tornado swept northeastward around Chicago, passing through Evanston, Wilmette and other suburbs, with a trail of wreckage and deaths.

The storm through Indiana and Ohio was distinctly separate from that in Illinois and wrought the same damage—a trail of deaths and injury.

STORM DAMAGES MOST SEVERE IN TOLEDO

By the Associated Press

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 29.—Eight persons are known to be dead and nearly one hundred injured, some probably fatally, in a tornado that struck Toledo and nearby villages late last night. Genoa, 18 miles southeast, was hard hit, the property damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars. About 25 houses at Genoa were demolished. Many occupants had retired for the night, and in instances whole families suffered injuries. A Toledoan passing through Raabs Corner in an automobile, said he saw many women and children lying in the streets with arms and legs apparently broken.

Relief workers left here this morning for the stricken town.

The minister of the Christian Church, wishes to see those young people who have made profession of faith in Christ, but who have not yet been baptized, on Tuesday evening at four o'clock, at the church. He wishes to include in this number any who are thinking of becoming Christians even if they have not yet made any profession of their faith. He desires to prepare them properly for the observance of the solemn and beautiful ordinance.—C. V. Dunn, Minister.

ARGUMENTS BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT TODAY BY STATES OPPOSED TO THE MEASURE

By the Associated Press WASHINGTON, March 29.—The constitutionality of the Prohibition Amendment and portions of the enforcement act were argued before the Supreme Court again today, in connection with consideration of the original suit brought by the State of New Jersey and appeals from arguments were not expected to be concluded before tomorrow.

The cases today involved virtually the same questions in Connecticut and Massachusetts recently presented to the Court but the original New Jersey suit embodied a more extensive attack upon the validity of the 18th amendment and parts of the enforcement act than heretofore brought to the court's attention.

The other New Jersey case brought by a Newark brewer and the Wisconsin suit, while attacking the validity of the amendment involved principally the right to continue the manufacture of beer alleged to be non-intoxicating but containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol, the maximum allowed under the enforcement act.

Half Dozen Pay Fines in Court For Drunkeness

This was the morning after the night before in police court and a goodly number of "the boys" were before hizzoner the mayor to answer a specific charge of drunkenness. Those arraigned before the court were Dick Chapman, Oscar Stevens, J. H. Clark, John Stevens, Elias Albersen, and Bob Adams. They were assessed something like $10.75 per each. It is said that a rather liberal supply of tanglefoot was turned loose in the city for the week-end festivities, and there is an uncertain rumor to the effect that the juice aforesaid was the product of a wild cat distillery located somewhere between the perspective and the horizon.

Miss Grace Bledsoe and brother Joe Frank Bledsoe, returned home Saturday from Shreveport, where they had gone to visit their mother, who is in the oil business there.

The gin at Hickory, belonging to the Farmers Cotton Oil Co., of Madison, was hard hit, the property damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars. About 25 houses at Genoa were demolished. Many occupants had retired for the night, and in instances whole families suffered injuries. A Toledoan passing through Raabs Corner in an automobile, said he saw many women and children lying in the streets with arms and legs apparently broken.

GOVERNMENT WANTS TO INTERCEDE IN FIGHT BETWEEN OKLAHOMA AND TEXAS IN RIVER SCRAP

By the Associated Press WASHINGTON, March 29.—The Government in motions filed today asked permission to intervene in the controversy between Oklahoma and Texas over the ownership of oil lands in the Red River district and that Texas be enjoined from granting title or permits to land located north of the south bank of the river. The motion also asks that the court likewise enjoin Texas and Oklahoma authorities from permitting any of the representatives to trespass upon the contested lands or sink any additional oil and gas wells, and that a receiver be appointed to take charge of all the lands together with the oil machinery and tools and operate the wells already sunk.

In presenting the motions Solicitor General King told the court that Oklahoma had approved it but Texas authorities had only agreed in part. Mr. King said quick action in the matter was necessary whereupon Chief Justice White announced that the court would hand down its opinion on the matter tomorrow.

FIFTY THOUSAND PACKING PLANT EMPLOYEES WILL LOSE JOBS IF STRIKE IS CONTINUED

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 29.—Nearly 50,000 employees of the packing companies here will be thrown out of work if the workers of the Union Stock Yards and transit company who went on a strike Saturday at midnight remain out, packing company officials said today.

"We have enough live stock on hand for today," said an official of Armour & Company. "After that we must gradually close down if the strike continues, and a week will see all departments of the plant closed."

The Chicago Junction Railroad has notified roads here that no live stock other than horses will be accepted for the Chicago market. Stock in transit to Chicago will be handled if conditions permit.

Packing company officials say that the number of men on strike is only about 900. This includes the stock handlers and the cleaners and the unloading men.

AFTERMATH OF A GREAT STORM

AS CITIES DIG THEMSELVES OUT FROM UNDER THE DEBRIS THE CASUALTIES MOUNT HIGHER

By the Associated Press ELGIN, Illinoian, March 29.—Elgin today began digging itself out of the wreckage of yesterday's tornado which claimed nine lives, injured more than 100 and did damage to property estimated at four million dollars. Business is virtually suspended while merchants and professional men joined hundreds of laborers in clearing the streets.

Many guardsmen and ex-soldiers, who controlled the stricken district last night, laid aside their rifles at dawn and with picks and shovels attacked the heaps of brick, timber and shattered glass.

Efforts to restore light and power facilities have proven unavailing and Elgin remains without lights. All factories depending upon the Central Power Station are shut down. No newspapers can be printed here today.

LA GRANGE, Ga., March 29.—Casualties resulting from the storm which swept this section late yesterday were placed today at about 50 dead and from 100 to 125 injured. Approximately 100 homes were destroyed. Property damage is estimated at $500,000.00.

ALEXANDER CITY, Ala., March 29.—Five white persons and six negroes were killed in the tornado which swept the territory between Camp Hill and Waverley yesterday. Property damage is estimated at between $20,000.00 and $30,000.00.

TOLEDO, O., March 29.—Casualties in the storm which swept Toledo and the surrounding district late last night, numbered 20 killed and hundreds injured, so far as could be learned today, with communication to surrounding points badly impaired by fallen wires.

INDIANAPOLIS, Indiana, March 29.—27 dead and at least 100 missing was the toll taken in the tornado which swept through northern Indiana yesterday, according to reports reaching Indianapolis today.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 29.—With 78 dead, several hundred injured, and the list of casualties growing out of the tornadoes which swept sections of Georgia and Alabama yesterday, continued to grow today. Additions to the list are expected as wire communications with the stricken territory is restored.

COLUMBUS, O., March 29.—Casualties resulting from the storm which swept western Ohio yesterday afternoon and night, totaled 26 dead and probably several hundred injured according to information available at ten thirty o'clock today. The property damage will run into millions of dollars it is said.

PESSIMISM HAS SWEEPED AUSTRIA

WHEN FOOD CONTROLLER RETURNED FROM PARIS EMPLOYED HANDED PEOPLE BECAME FRANTIC

By the Associated Press

VIENNA, March 28.—A wave of pessimism has swept over the country since Baron Koranyi, Minister of Finance, and the Food Controller returned from Paris with empty hands except for some small food credits. Newspapers express regret at the delay of the hoped-for American loan and publish warnings of approaching exhaustion of food supplies and of another crisis.

Depression prevails in business circles. Manufacturers declare that these driblets of loans for food purchase are futile and that only credits sufficiently large to enable business to get on its feet by the purchase of coal and raw materials will postpone the complete breakdown of Austria.

One of the basic causes of the country's paralysis is lack of coal due to failure of the coal supplying countries to live up to their agreements. For this reason industries lie idle.

Austria's natural and logical coal supply lies in Bohemia and Prussia, or upper Silesia. Under present arrangements coal is secured, what there is of it, under agreements between state and government officials. The supply is so small that virtually all of it is needed for limited railway operation, the gas and electric plants and limited private domestic use.

None remains for industries and no factories except those producing the necessities of life are in constant operation. For instance, the great Floridsdorf locomotive works, with a capacity of 150 locomotives a year have been idle for four weeks while all Europe is crying for railway motive power. The demand for freight cars is insistent and yet the Graz car factory with a potential capacity of 300 cars a month produces less than fifty because coal is not to be had and consequently they cannot secure wheels, axles and structural iron for bodies.

Vienna is surrounded with a forest of factory stacks but smoke issues from few of them. This has been true ever since the revolution fifteen months ago. Manufacturers say that if coal can be assured in sufficient quantities, they will manage to find raw materials enough to start with and slowly build up credits for more.

Commission after commission has vainly tried to obtain delivery of the coal for which contracts were made with Szczecin-Slovakia. The reason for this failure is unknown here. One expert says that unless Austria is allowed to get coal from the Upper Silesian fields, whence has always come the bulk of Austria's supply, her population must perish under starvation and anarchy. This solution, he says, lies in the hands of the powers.

ALLIES WILL OCCUPY CONSTANTINOPLE UNTIL TURKS EXECUTE PEACE TREATY

General Franchet d'Esperey (left) Constantinople and the Bosphorus, and General George F. Milne.

Allied forces now in Constantinople will remain in occupation until every provision of the Turkish treaty has been executed. General George F. Milne, who marched into the city a few days ago at the head of a British force, is in active command in the Turkish capital. General Franchet d'Esperey of the French army is in command of all allied forces in Turkey, and thus the British general is at least theoretically under his control.

French troops have been in military occupation of Constantinople for the purpose of maintaining order, for sixteen months. The allies have announced that it is not their purpose to deprive the Turks of their ancient capital.

General Milne enjoys the distinction of being the most decorated man who took part in the world war. He served on all fronts and received decorations from the rulers and military commanders of every one of the allied countries.

General Milne will be tried later. Both Woodlock and Broderick were plumbers. Under the Missouri laws, if the girl is convicted of first or second degree murder her punishment may be the same as if she were an adult. The minimum is 10 years in the penitentiary. If, however, she is convicted of any degree of manslaughter, she will be sent to an industrial school until she is 21, it was explained.

ed to the police and last May was indicted for first degree murder, but has been at liberty under $5,000 bond.

At the coroner's inquest the girl testified she shot and killed Woodlock when he attempted to attack her. Fearing him, she said, she had slept with a revolver concealed in the folds of her nightdress for several weeks and when on April 14 he came to her bedside and embraced her, she drew the revolver and fired.

After the shooting, she surrendered to the police and last May was indicted for first degree murder, but has been at liberty under $5,000 bond.

Ursula Broderick was only 12 years old in 1916 when she shot and killed her father, Thomas P. Broderick. In that case a coroner's jury exonerated her after she had testified that she shot him because he was beating her mother and was about to strike her with a hammer. Mrs. Woodlock is charged jointly with her daughter in connection with Woodlock's death but will be tried later. Both Woodlock and Broderick were plumbers.

POLAND CELEBRATES GAINING SEAPORT

By News Special Service

WARSAW, March 29.—Tossing of a wedding ring into the ocean marked ceremonies recently held at Puck or Putzig, to celebrate the reuniting of Poland to the sea, an event of which all of Poland had dreamed for many years. Polish troops in their northward march on their own soil, as provided under the treaty of Versailles, had reached the coast line of the Baltic and begun to make themselves at home in the stretch of land northwest of Danzig. This brought Poland to salt water again after an absence of 148 years.

While Polish ships are to have use of wharves at Danzig which to be a free port under the League of Nations, the new Republic is desirous of a port which it may call its very own, and it is with this end in view that the Polish Government has settled upon Puck, as it is spelled in Polish, as a site of the port where in the future Poland may have absolutely free commercial access to the sea under jurisdiction of its own officials.

It was at the seaside near Puck where formal exercises marking Poland's re-union to the sea were celebrated the other day and it was a great event. Thousands from all over Poland assembled in holiday attire to commemorate the historical occurrence and also the recovery of Polish land which went to Prussia after Poland's first dismemberment by the three conquerors, Prussia, Russia and Austria in 1772.

Open Seas of World

General Haller, commander in chief of the Polish Army in France during the great war and under whom thousands of Polish-Americans fought, headed the military expedition which entered Puck to reclaim in the name of President Piłsudski Poland's gateway to the seven seas. The town and all the villages thereabouts were decorated with thousands of flags and streamers of the Polish national colors, in white and scarlet, which were flying in these parts for the first time in a century and a half.

There was a race of the detachments of Polish soldiers to actually reach the coast and to be the first to dip a Polish flag into the waters of the Baltic.

Speaking at the exercises, General Haller said that from that day henceforth the seas of the world were open to the Polish sailor and that the Polish seamen would be quick to make the best of it. Then, in accordance with an old Polish tradition, General Haller threw a gold ring into the ocean as a sign that Poland had been wedded to the sea, this time, he said, he hoped forever and forever.

Plans for a Polish navy are already under way.

BATHING SUIT IDEAS BROUGHT BACK FROM PALM BEACH FOR NORTHERN SUMMER TIME

By ELOISE

If you are one of those methodical women who always have the home dressmaker come in March or April to do the sewing for the season you will surely want some hints as to what the bathing suits will be like next July and August. Of course, it is a bit early for those people who live in the northern half of the country to think about swimming, but it is none too early to think about swimming suits. Many smart and pretty styles, some daring, some conservative and some ordinary were displayed on the southern beaches this season and those styles will undoubtedly persist thru the summer season. The swimmer, of course, will always wear the merest covering of jersey, either sleeveless with a tiny skirt or a regular man's bathing suit which may have small sleeves. The girl who likes to sit on the beach and get a nice coat of tan instead of swimming and getting a nice shapely arm has a number of pretty styles to choose from. Here are two of the newest models which were displayed at Palm Beach. The one at the left is made of blue silk figured in rose and white. It is cut on rather fancy lines for a real swimmer and yet it is so charming that it would be hard to resist buying it. The little knickerbockers are tight at the knees and then they are cut full like riding breeches. The overdress is made on the same lines one would expect to find a regular frock made. A stole tie forms a collar at the neck and falls to the hem of the skirt, where it is finished with silk tassels. The little sleeves are no protection at all from the burning rays of the sun. Instead they give a lovely opportunity for milady to get a beautiful diamond burned on her shoulder. This miss, however is going to defy the sun by carrying her brilliant rose and white striped parasol.

Here's a little one-piece suit which is feminine enough to please the most dainty swimmer and allows freedom enough for the most athletic one, and also you may be able to fool the beach guard into thinking it is a modest suit with the demanded skirt. It really is modest, but it has no such thing as a skirt connected with it. Instead it is just a bloomer suit of black silk with rows and rows of double ruching so completely covering the upper part of the bloomers that they are perfectly camouflaged. Double ruching also finishes the bloomers at the knee. A braided silk cord with tasseled ends tied about the waist forms the only trimming. A red rubber hat with rosettes completely covering it makes a pretty accessory for this costume.

HOOVER OUT TO WIN AS REPUBLICAN

By News' Special Service:
NEW YORK, March 29.—Friends of Herbert C. Hoover are centering their efforts to get him the Republican nomination for President. They have abandoned any intention of putting Mr. Hoover forward for the Democratic nomination, largely because of the belief that a Republican Congress will be selected this fall, regardless of the result of the Presidential election, and that the election of Mr. Hoover as a Democrat would result in his having a politically hostile Congress, which would prevent the accomplishment of any constructive program.

This is the meaning of the establishment of the Hoover National Republican Club which has recently opened extensive headquarters in the Hotel Vanderbilt, according to a person intimately concerned in its organization. It is in line with the recent announcement of Captain J. F. Luey, its temporary Chairman, and M. L. Requa and Ralph Arnold that Hoover Clubs were organized all through the country in an attempt to develop and crystallize sufficient sentiment to force the Republican National Convention to nominate Mr. Hoover.

Mr. Hoover, although not an active candidate, is said to have acquiesced in the suggestion that his friends confine their efforts to trying to get him the Republican nomination. His recent statement, urging ratification of the Peace Treaty with the Lodge reservation, was said by his friends to have aligned him definitely with the republican party. It was also asserted now that neither Mr. Hoover nor any

DAYLIGHT SAVING POPULAR IN EAST

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 29.—Daylight saving will go into effect at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning in at least 33 American cities and towns, notwithstanding the repeal of the law by congress last summer over President Wilson's veto, according to the National Daylight Association in a statement here today. At that time clocks will be set ahead one hour.

The cities and towns which have adopted daylight saving ordinances are as follows:

NEW YORK—New York City, Buffalo, Cohoes, Troy, Utica, Syracuse, Yonkers, Gloversville; NEW JERSEY—Camden, Plainfield, New Brunswick, Hoboken, Jersey City; MASSACHUSETTS—Clinton, Lynn, Worcester, Marboro; PENNSYLVANIA—Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Corry, Allentown, Harrisburg, Easton; CONNECTICUT—Hartford, Putnam; MAINE—Portland, South Portland; NEW HAMPSHIRE—Manchester; MICHIGAN—Detroit, St. Joseph; COLORADO—Denver; OHIO—Columbus; DELAWARE—Wilmington.

"We do not anticipate any confusion," said Marcus M. Marks, president of the organization which has been fighting for daylight saving. "The time adopted by New York City, for instance, will be automatically observed by all cities and towns within a radius of 50 miles or more of the metropolis. The same can be said of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. The New York Central; New York, New Haven & Hartford; Lackawanna; Reading; Boston & Maine and Maine Central railroads are preparing to operate their local trains so as to take care of the commuters in the territory affected. Cleveland last year operated on time an hour ahead of contiguous territory but there was no confusion there."

The state-wide daylight saving bill recently passed by the New Jersey assembly and which is now before the senate for consideration, is reported to have been indorsed by nearly 300 municipalities, and is also said to have the approval of the city commissioners of Newark

Patterson and Elizabeth. New York state already possesses a law ordering the clocks turned ahead tomorrow, but strong efforts are being made to obtain its repeal.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Alarmed because a number of "reds" appeared for hearing yesterday with cracked heads, black eyes and lacerated noses, federal agents started an investigation and learned that a battle royal had taken place Sunday between "respectable" prisoners in the city jail and the incoming "reds." News of the fighting, which almost approached a riot, was suppressed by the jail authorities and federal officials only learned of it today.

charges, resented having to associate with the "reds" according to prisoners' stories. Russo led the attack and himself knocked down fifteen "reds" before perspiring guards could get him off of them. Nearly 100 of the "reds" are said to have been beaten severely.

The city prisoners were taken to Bridewell and put in solitary confinement because of the attack.

BLAMES THE STEEL TRUST FOR ALL ILLS

ists which is endangering the country.

Steel Corporation Assailed.

"The United States Steel corporation is the father of most of the ills with which the country is afflicted today. It introduced watered stock to the nation and inflicted high prices upon the people to pay dividends. Can you wonder that employees working in the steel factories twelve hours a day and seven days a week should strike for a greater portion of the $1,300,000,000 spoils accumulated by that corporation while our boys were fighting the Huns and the people at home were practising hard economy in order to buy Liberty bonds and War Savings stamps?

"Government control scored a great victory in the recent mine strike. The strike was called in violation of law and at a time when it would have wrecked every industry in the United States had not the government stepped in for the good of the public. President Wilson told the officials if the men would return to work he would appoint a committee to investigate their claims, but not until then. The long period of wrangling on the part of the officials got them nothing and there was not a compromise but a full acceptance of the government's terms when the officials saw the prison staring them in the face.

Miners Live Up to Agreement.

"When they finally agreed to the government demands, to their credit it is said that they lived up to their agreement. It remains to be seen if the operators are to do as well. Contrary to the opinion of some of the miners, the government was not taking the side of the operators. Its only motive was to produce coal and save the people of the country from suffering and the other industries from ruin. Some of the operators sought to take advantage of the opportunity to destroy the mine unions while this was being done. But the government was not in conspiracy with the operators to tie the hands of labor and let capital fight it unrestrained, for organized labor has rendered a service to the country. "The trouble with labor today comes from Russian sources, and there is money from Lenin and Trotzky to foster agitation, cause strikes seek general strikes, and eventually bring about an armed conflict between capital and labor, with the assassination of government officials and the overthrow of all government as its objective.

Foreign Language Papers Demounced.

"There are more than 200 foreign-language newspapers printed in the United States, virtually all of which spread dangerous propaganda for the overthrow of the government. New York papers have been translated to show the cult of the anarchist in America. He views government and religion as two common enemies and seeks to destroy private ownership of all sorts. Experts have been engaged by the department of justice and all such papers are to be handled vigorously. When the extremists and bolsheviks are banished from the shores, there will not be so much trouble with labor unions.

"Many of the troubles confronting the country today are the direct results of the war, and prices are high because of lack of production does not explain all the prices. About 500 commodities were under government control during the war, while about 500 others were not.

"You Can't Rob Me."

"These commodities not under government control averaged about 35 per cent higher in price than the ones controlled, and immediately the control was lifted, after the signing of the armistice, all prices began bounding skyward regardless of the fact that the war was over. Profiteering is the reason for much of the present high cost of living. The cost of producing crude oil has not increased since last April sufficiently to justify an advance in price from $1.10 to $5, but the large demands created a shortage and the price went up with a financial harvest to the oil men.

"Prices cannot return to their pre-war basis for some time, but the only way to start them back now and effectively break the high cost of living is for each man to appoint himself a committee of one to say to the dealer who exceeds a reasonable profit: 'You can't rob me, you damned profiteer.'

Prices on Decline.

"Despite the dark outlook along some lines, there is a ray of hope, for prices have decreased slightly since August, while ordinarily the trend of prices is upward during the winter. Prices should go down and they will go down, but time and the co-operation of all Americans are necessary to solve the after-the-war problems.

"The thousands of country homes with cows grazing in the meadows and chickens scratching in the barnyards constitute a bulwark to our great American civilization. There is no danger to a community from small property owners. They constitute the body and the heart of the United States and the body and the heart are sound, the circulation is good, and the ills which afflict us are not cancers to eat away our civilization, but temporary ailments which the healthy body will throw off without lasting harmful effects."

Ames, who is in Oklahoma City for a few days' rest while engaged in the prosecution of the United States Steel corporation, referred touchingly to the ties which bind him to Oklahoma City and declared his intention of returning to private life here as soon as public duties will permit his feeling that he is not shirking responsibilities.

Radical Employers Stir Up Strife, Fenton's Charges

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 10.—Radicals among employers can and do stir up as much industrial strife as radicals among the labor men and should be accorded as vigorous treatment as the I. W. W. who seeks to inflame the laboring man, according to Edgar Fenton, president of the federation, who yesterday called a meeting of labor representatives for January 14, to map out the union's fight against the open shop resolution to come before the employers at their meeting here.

"There are enough strikes and troubles without employers hunting for disturbances, but if the open shop idea is undertaken by the employers the blame for its consequences will rest squarely with them, for the federation of labor is doing all in its power to overcome the naturally large amount of friction due to readjustment to peace conditions," Fenton said.

"Employers generally do not want the agitation for they recall the unsettled conditions in many Texas cities where the open shop fight has been waged. In Beaumont the fight went so far that every union man in the city boycotted the merchants, who sided with the employers, and established cooperative stores and patronized mail order houses."

THE MEASURE OF REAL MANHOOD

In the course of our reading the other day we happened to run across a story that interested us more than many stories do. Taken in connection with the savage abuse received by President Wilson while he lay stricken in the White House, we found the story of unusual interest.

When General Grant lay dying on Mount McGregor, Jefferson Davis, only president of the Southern Confederacy, was asked to write a military criticism of Grant's career. Davis refused for two reasons: "First: General Grant is dying. Second: While he invaded the South with a ruthlessness it was an open hand. So far as I have ever heard he was a frank and honest enemy. Therefore, instead of criticising him while he is dying, I would, so far as in my power, do what I can to add to the peace of his mind and the comfort of his body."

Probably no man was ever execrated among the Republicans of this country as Jefferson Davis. Yet shortly before he himself died a disfranchised citizen among the magnolias at Beauvoir, he set an example for charitable thinking that shames forever the critics of Woodrow Wilson. The man who refused to criticise the conqueror of his country showed more real manhood than those who criticise their leader in the greatest victory of modern times.

Not a single nation allied with America in the world struggle was benefitted by the senators who defeated the peace treaty. Not a single nation that fought America and her allies in the world struggle failed to derive substantial benefit from the defeat of that treaty. Not a single principle our laddies died for failed to suffer when the treaty was defeated. Not a single principle fought for by the Hun was injured when the treaty was defeated. Not a single allied capital heard of the treaty's defeat with lighted bonfires and other signs of rejoicing. Not a single Hunnish city grieved when it heard that the treaty was dead.

The proposed teaching of athletics by a phonograph accompaniment may have its advantages, but as we see it, there will be some pronounced disadvantages. Just imagine what would happen to a football team if the phonograph should run down just as the center rush began. And how could Jack Dempsey, trained to fight by "I Never Raised My Boy to Be a Soldier", ever land a knock-out on Carpentier, trained to fight by the "Marsallaise"?

If we ever advocate another law in addition to the multitude of laws we now have, it will be one making the vagrancy statute include those who make political and propaganda speeches for pay. So long as we have paid agitators we will have made-to-order agitation. Half the hordes now vexing this country has been created by fake reformers paid to raise hordes. They are worse than a public nuisance. They are a positive public menace.

About as many Americans oppose compulsory military training in time of peace as endorsed it in time of war. The men who resisted the draft were just about equal in number to the force now demanding compulsory training. Any real American will consent to conscription in time of war. No real American will advocate it in time of peace.

The unanimity with which the senate finally confirmed the nomination of Bainbridge Colby causes us to suspect that the Republican senators were anxious to shunt him into the opposition party. They have already had some experience with Colby, and are evidently willing for the Democrats to have a similar experience.

If a Democratic administration had carried on the war with the same speed that marks the carrying out of the "great constructive program" of the Republican congress, some of Oklahoma's soldiers would be half way to Camp Travis by this time.

The report that a British war vessel has captured a vessel loaded with German machine guns and German rifles headed for an Irish port will be pleasing news to the honorable senators who voted for the independence of Ireland.

Reports from Washington declare that the wire service was recently badly crippled by the aurora borealis. We guess that is what has been playing hob with Mr. Burleson's mail service.

"GYROCOPTER" IS LATEST DEVICE MADE TO ENABLE AIRPLANE TO RISE VERTICALLY

The "Gyrocopter" is the name given a new machine designed by Henry A. Berliner to enable an airplane to arise or descend vertically in a small area. The machine can be operated independently and can be tilted forward in which position it will fly horizontally. The tilting is done by changing the center of lifting pressure. The weight of the machine is 620 pounds and it has a lifting power of more than 900 pounds. The lifting propellers are thirteen feet in diameter and ten inches in width. It is driven by an eighty-horsepower motor.

Woman's Party Says Female Vote Will Be Short of That of Men

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 29.—Ballots cast by women in the coming Presidential election will fall short of the potential men's vote by over 2,500,000 provided the suffrage amendment is ratified and state degredation laws enacted in time to permit women all over the country to participate, according to estimates by the National Woman's Party.

With the 1910 census as a basis, the Woman's part estimates the number of men eligible to vote at 29,577,690, and the possible women voters at 26,883,566. In 1916, however, the actual vote cast for all various Presidential candidates was 18,528,743, omitting ballots thrown out for cause, which leaves over 11,000,000 possible votes unregistered. If as large a proportion of men voters remain indifferent in the coming election, women political leaders here say that the eagerness of women to exercise their newly acquired privilege may more than offset the disparity in numbers between the sexes.

In five of the states, moreover, women of voting age outnumber the men. Massachusetts has the greatest preponderance of women "voters" with 58,264 more women than men. North Carolina is next with a women's majority of 15,288 and South Carolina with 10,307 is third. In Rhode Island women of voting age outnumber the men by 3,196 and in Maryland by 1,292.

NELS DARLING SPEAKS TO THE PUBLIC

My father was a skin specialist. He made a study of skin diseases. There are two general types of skin diseases, namely Dry and Wet. Dry skin is the result of a lack of moisture. It is often caused by a deficiency of water. Wet skin is the result of too much water. You will find Dry Skin and Wet Skin. Prickly Heat, Rash, Eczema, Ringworm, Impetigo and various skin diseases are all due to wet skin.

"The Walk-Off" Is A Screen Triumph With May Allison

"The Walk-Offs," a picturization by Screen Classics, Inc., of the successful stage play by Frederic and Fanny Hatton, is the most suitable vehicle for May Allison's beauty and dramatic talents which this rising star has had. Despite the brilliancy of the background of fashionable life, alluring women in exquisite gowns and extraordinary glimpses into gay studio entertainments, May Allison easily predominates this production by her engaging personality.

The play was originally produced by Oliver Morosco at the Morosco Theatre in New York and had a successful run. June Mathis and A. P. Younger, who made the scenario of the screen version, have displayed considerable ingenuity in the wider latitude allowed them in the screen story and have elaborated considerably upon the pictures of bright social and studio life. room while the funeral service was being conducted.

The male quartette of the First Christian Church sang three beautiful selections, "Crossing the Bar", "The Church In the Wildwood," a favorite song of the deceased, and "Abide With Me." Six of the Legionnaires were pall bearers and carried the remains to the hearse between the ranks of the remaining members. Three cars of the Legion members led the funeral procession to the cemetery. The American Legion members stood in ranks to attention while the bugler blew taps as the remains were being lowered to their last resting place.

The father, mother and sister of the deceased were present besides a large number of friends to pay the last tribute of respect.

Mr. Taft's lecture will be on the subject of America and Bolshevism.

Those who have been keeping up with events since the cessation of hostilities in November, 1918, recall that Mr. Taft has been first of all an American citizen.

Unlike many in both the Republican and Democratic parties, he has not let party welfare sway him from the line of duty. He has stood four square to the world and preached and lived his convictions. In time of peril he has stood by the administration.

At all times he has endeavored to help and not hinder the progress of this country and the world.

Mr. Taft, according to those who have heard him, is an entertaining speaker, being both an orator and a conveyor of an interesting message.

His long public career has given him an insight into the events of the day equal to or above that of any other American. He understands the radical movements now threatening many sections of the county and will give to the Ada audience his interpretation of the movements and his prescription for a cure.

The lecture will be delivered Monday evening in the auditorium of the Normal Administration building.

WOOD MEN ATTACK LOWDEN AND HOOVER

By News' Special Service

NEW YORK, March 29.—Local managers of Major Gen. Leonard Wood's campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination, in answer to the attack of Senator Borah upon the Wood's campaign methods, had a few words to say yesterday about two of the General's rival candidates, Governor Lowden of Illinois and Herbert C. Hoover, whose friends have been busy of late trying to prove that he is more entitled to the Republican nomination than the Democratic nomination. A statement, issued from the Wood Headquarters in the Hotel Imperial, commenting on the demand of Senator Borah that the Wood managers make public the source of their campaign funds intimated that both the Lowden and Hoover campaign funds would themselves bear investigation. The statement follows:

"We are in no way surprised at the attacks coming from the Democratic press and the Democratic leader, William Jennings Bryan, on General Wood and the organization which is attempting to inform the Republican voters generally of the candidate's pre-eminent qualifications for the Presidency. It is natural for the Democrats to attack the leading Republican candidate. But it is unfortunate, when other Republican aspirants and their supporters, like Senator Borah, join in the game of discrediting the one candidate on whom all Republicans can unite and with whom alone they are certain of victory in November."

The Lowden campaign fund has not been attacked, nor has that of Mr. Hoover, although both of these other candidates are personally wealthier men than General Wood—whose army salary is all that he has—and their campaign funds are probably considerably larger. Governor Lowden is a multimillionaire, with all the wealth of the Pullman interests behind him, and it is evident that Hoover's campaign is amply financed by various wealthy men. It is obvious another evidence of General Wood's strength that the attack is made upon him and upon those independent admirers that is intended to educate the Republican voters of the country to the nation's predicament, its present needs and the eminent qualifications and character of General Wood.

Universal Military Training To Be the Issue in Kansas Now

By the Associated Press

SALINA, Kas., March 28.—Universal military training, party leaders predict, will be the principle issue to be threshed out in resolutions at the republican state convention here March 31. While the gathering is for the purpose of selecting four delegates at large and four alternates to the national G. O. P. convention, and to choose two presidential electors-at-large, interest is keen as to what resolutions are to be adopted and particularly on what side of the military training issue the convention will align itself. It is not expected that the delegates to the national convention will be instructed.

There will be 1,018 delegates at the convention, a large increase over the number at the 1916 party, due to the enfranchisement of women in the state. About two hundred and fifty of the delegates this year will be women.

Among those whom the convention probably will consider for delegates at large to the national convention are W. J. Bailey of Atchison, former governor; H. H. Motter, Olath, chairman of the republican state committee; Emerson Carey of Hutchinson; W. W. Watson of Salina; D. W. Mulvane of Topeka; Major Charles Browne of Horton and Mrs. Minnie J. Grinstead of Liberal, member of the Legislature.

District delegates to the national convention will be chosen by congressional district conventions preceding the state conclave. Two delegates from each district will be chosen. Among the prominent candidates for district delegates are William Allen White and W. Y. Morgan.

The primary election at which state and congressional candidates are to be nominated including a candidate to succeed United States Senator Charles Curtis, will be held August 3.

Still another convention, devoted to the adoption of a state platform is scheduled for August 31. The delegates to the platform convention will consist of candidates nominated at the primary and the chairman of the republican county committees.

Gore's Judgment Day Is at Hand Regardless Of His Blatant Pleas

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 29.—The politicians and blatant demagogues who base their hopes of political advancement on the hope that the people have forgotten their disloyalty and unfaithfulness during the trying days of the war will be roundly surprised when the voters get a chance to be heard in the primary.

Senator Cole Bleasdale, of South Carolina, Senator Vardaman of Mississippi, and Senator Hardwick of Georgia, were three alleged Democrats who with Gore of Oklahoma and James "Ardmore" Reed of Missouri did everything in their power to thwart the work of President Wilson and a Democratic Congress in their loyal efforts to win the Charleston, Ill.—"I suffered for four years with female troubles and a displacement. I was not able to do any work and was a misery to myself and my family. A friend recommended Lydia E. I tell every woman about this fine Vegetable Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial if you wish."—MARY JANE HOUSE, 409 N. 12th Street, Charleston, Ill.

war. The people of their States, outraged by their action, defeated them overwhelmingly in the last election and sent loyal men to take their places in the Senate of the United States.

This year it is Gore's time to meet his accusers and his judges, and he will find that the Democratic voters of Oklahoma are just as sensitive of the good name of their State and just as resentful toward an unfaithful and disloyal servant as the people of other sections of the south.

He cannot escape judgment for his admitted sins by dangling before the public documents filled with jingling phrases, and beautifully worded appeals for sympathy. He will be tried by the voters on his record as he made it day by day during the past four years and that record of cunning and malignant enmity toward every policy of the Government to successfully organize an army and meet our responsibilities in the World War is known by the men, women and children of the State. He cannot avoid it or gloss it over. The people have not forgotten, they have only waited for an opportunity to call him to account. His "day of judgment" is at hand.

Ten thousand men will be given employment with the construction of the National Tube Company in Gary, Ind., the building to cost $40,000,000.

MAYWELL ITEMS.

The Home Economic Club of Maywell had its second meeting. A number of interesting things were discussed about this year's plans.

Among others it was decided that they should give a pie supper on the evening of April 2, to buy equipment to take care of this year's crop, such as a steam cooker, an oil stove and a few utensils.

The organization of the club has been completed with a membership of twenty eight hardworking girls, who are going about their work thinking only of success.

BRIGHTER OUTLOOK NOTED BY BULLETIN

By the Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 29.—The early arrival of Spring will act as a wrench in the machinery of the high cost of living, according to the Monthly Bulletin of the Federal Reserve Bank of the Tenth Federal Reserve District. Off-setting, to a marked degree, the serious shortage of farm labor, it will permit farmers to prepare an appreciably larger acreage than they otherwise could have prepared and will correspondingly increase farm production.

The tone of The Bulletin is optimistic, although interlarded with provisory clauses. Without discounting the need for larger production from farm, stock range, mine, oil field and factory areas is placed on the great need for a big construction year.

Reports to The Bulletin point out that every community faces serious housing shortage, not only for domestic uses, but for housing commerce and industry that must expand if adverse conditions of under-production are to be overcome.

To this end, it cites three essentials:

Necessity for greater readiness in financing building projects; stabilization of building material prices and of building labor wages; increased supplies of materials, together with greater facility for distribution.

No timidity is noted in the survey, on the part of the consumer, to buy immediate necessities, but buying is in small lots and for immediate use only. Manufacturers are not meeting the clothing demands, which cancels hope for a decline in prices. Shoe dealers report brisk movement, but a marked demand for moderate priced goods which is not available, and manufacturers are not promoting price concessions.

Furniture dealers, the review declares, are having trouble obtaining goods to supply the demand which is for a notably higher grade of goods than ever before.

Speculative buying in groceries also has disappeared in the district, according to The Bulletin's reports, and prices are found to be slightly easier on foodstuffs, breads and meats.

Hardware price rule high, with brisk demand, due to the open building season.

Dealers in moderate priced automobiles cannot obtain cars to supply their trade, which also is true of accessories.

AMERICAN EAGLE NOW LOSING OUT

APPEAL ISSUED TO PUBLIC TO HELP SAVE HISTORIC BIRD FROM COMPLETE EX-TINCTION

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 29.—A warning against the threatened extinction of the bald or American eagle, the national bird of the United States, was issued here today by the American Museum of Natural History which stated that reports indicated that "more than one-half and perhaps three-quarters of the entire species already have been sacrificed."

Destruction of the birds is attributed to hunters in Alaska who are killing them for a bounty paid by the territorial government. Never numerous, the museum authorities say, more than 5,600 eagles were slain in a few months in their favorite breeding ground, the Alaskan peninsula. Hunters have extended their operations into the British provinces adjoining Alaska, it is said, to swell their gains.

After declaring that the American eagle preys chiefly on large rodents harmful to farm crops, for the control of which the government annually expends large sums, the museum declares that "tales of the American eagle's destructiveness to game or domestic animals are for the greater part pure fiction." The bird it says, is migratory and therefore no state or territory can claim the right to destroy it, that right being vested in the Federal government.

Recalling the fact that the wild pigeon, formerly found in incredible numbers in certain parts of the United States, had been "utterly wiped out by unrestricted shooting and the destruction of its nests" the museum says that only the prompt passage of a Federal law will save the American eagle from the same fate.

German Troops to Ruhr

By the Associated Press
PARIS, March 29.—Absolute confirmation of the entrance of German regular army troops into the Ruhr district on the edge of the Allied zone of occupation, without any permission from the Allies, has been received by the French Foreign Office, it was declared today.

The subject, it was stated, probably will come up before the Supreme Council in London. The French say they can find no excuse what ever for the sending of troops into this section.

Mrs. Neatherly at Home.

For several years past Mrs. Will Neatherly has not kept house, but leased her home on South Rennie and it was only recently she had her home remodeled and redecorated making one of the most artistic interiors of any bungalow in the city. Desiring to extend a welcome again to her many friends, Mrs. Neatherly invited them Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 p. m. to share her hospitality and the crowd that thronged her home attested the happiness of these at the return of this charming hostess.

Mrs. W. H. Ebey met the guests at the door and presented them to their hostess who stood at the head of the receiving line composed of Mrs. McAtee and Mrs. Long, of Louisville, Ky., Mesdames J. H. Lassiter, Dunn, W. C. Duncan, Tom Hope, C. H. Rives and C. A. Galbraith. From the reception room Mrs. R. W. Simpson ushered the guests to the dining room, where beautiful draperies as a backdrop to a table laid in point lace with a great mound of pink and white sweet peas and feathered firms forming a center, piece tall crystal candle sticks tied with pink tull and a buffet heaped with spring flowers, made and exquisite setting for the serving of brick cream, cake and cream mints by Mesdames I. M. King, A. K. Thornton, J. M. Bolen and J. M. Winter-smith.

One could easily have believed Mesdames Paul Alderson and P. A. Norris fairies, who with magic wands had wafted the guests to far away Japan, as they walked into the charming tea room, lighted with many shaded lanterns, here and there oriental screens and parasols of brilliant colors, huge baskets of wisteria and cherry blossoms everywhere, that needed only the charming tea table in the corner with two Japanese ladies in exquisitely embroidered kimonos, jad bracelets and jad hair ornaments, Mesdames J. P. McKinley and Harmon Ebey pouring tea to make one feel they were truly in the kingdom of Mikado. Mesdames M. C. Wilson, Ralph Cain and W. E. McKelvey assisted in serving tea and salted almonds, then the guests departed declaring the afternoon a most delightful one and such occasions as this, the spice of life.

Long-Shannon

Miss Noma Long of Ada and Robert S. Shannon of Durant were united in marriage Monday, March 29th at 9 A. M., at the home of the bride's parents on W. 10th St., Rev. B. F. Stegall officiating.

The happy bride and groom left on the South bound 11:20 Katy this morning for Durant, where Mr. Shannon is in the moving picture business, and will make their future home there.

Wounded Man Recovering In City Hospital

Andy Coleman, who was wounded near Haskell Friday night, is reported to be doing nicely today at the local hospital, where he was brought Saturday. He received a shot through the lung, but if unforeseen complications do not develop, attending physicians say he will ultimately recover. It is reported that Miss Josephine Beach, who was injured also is not seriously hurt. It is said that she only received a glancing shot across the side of the head.

It was reported in Ada Saturday that Colman had died of his wounds Saturday morning. This report was confirmed by wire to the Evening News from Stonewall and was published in Saturday's paper. Such a report was erroneous, however, and Colman will probably recover. No announcement concerning the cause or circumstances of the tragedy have been made other than the first announcement of Saturday morning.

DUMB CURED BY SUGGESTION

English Specialist in Nervous Diseases Claims to Have Achieved Some Remarkable Results.

Can a dumb man be made to speak merely by being told that he must speak?

Impossible though it may seem, cures have been effected by this means.

Lieut.-Colonel Sir Frederick Mott, one of the foremost specialists in nervous diseases, claims to have cured several dumb soldiers by suggestion.

Five men who were mutes were sent to him after they had been treated previously, and it had been suggested to them that they were not going to get well. He took the first man into a room and told him that he never left a patient until he had cured him, "even if it took him a couple of hours."

The doctor had recourse to a little galvanism on the man's throat, and asked him to count ten. At first he indicated that he could not, but after coughing his lips began to move. Then he was asked to name the days of the week and sing "God Save the King." Eventually he spoke; and the other four were also cured by this method.

Lions Club Passes Resolution on the Death of Robertson

At its regular meeting the Lion's Club of Ada passed a fitting resolution on the death of J. Cooper Robertson, one of the leading members of the club, and ordered a copy of the same sent to the widow, a copy spread upon the minutes and a copy given to the press for publication. Following is the resolution as presented, read and adopted by the club:

Resolution

RESOLVED: That the Lions Club of Ada notes with deep sorrow the untimely death of its loyal member, J. Cooper Robertson, who departed this life at his home in our city on the evening of Tuesday, March 2;

That we bear ungrudging testimony to his worth as a man, his loyalty as a member of our club, and his value as a citizen. We acknowledge the debt we owe him for his sympathetic co-operation in every cause undertaken for the progress of our city and for the well-being of our citizens;

That we pay tribute to the clean and manly life he lead among us and for the high sense of honor he manifested in all his dealings with his fellowman. He maintained a high standard in all his relations and adhered religiously to that standard in all his dealings;

That we take a lesson from the high example he set among us and commend that lesson to all who knew him and were associated with him in our organization;

That we extend to his wife the tenderest sympathies in her bereavement; That we give public expression to our sense of loss at his untimely death and of appreciation for the services he rendered;

That a copy of this resolution be spread of record on the minutes of the club, that a copy be sent to Mrs. J. Cooper Robertson and a copy furnished the press for publication.

Christian Church Pastor Reports a Good Day Sunday

Yesterday was a good day at the Christian Church. The day started with a fine attendance at the Bible School—187, the largest for a long time. An invitation was given at the close of the Bible School hour which was responded to by seven young people. They were: Joe Frank Bledsoe, Carl Browall, Margorie Lee, Mabel Pickering, Linnie Pickering, Edwin Drummond, and Mildred Scales. At the close of the church worship two came, one to make a good confession, the other to unite with the church by letter. The one that made the good confession was Edna Gray; the one that united with the church by letter was Mrs. E. A. Gatlin. This made nine in all for yesterday, a total of twenty since the beginning of the campaign on February 22. Our goal is fifty by the close of the campaign next Sunday evening.

Good audience were in attendance both morning and evening. There was good special music at both services. Mrs. Anna Ingram sang in the morning, "I want to go there." The male quartet sang in the evening.

The minister's morning sermon on the theme, "The Cleaner." The basis of his sermon was the beautiful story of Ruth. He drew the following comparison between Ruth as a gleaner and a soul winner of today; she went out at her own volition and by her mother-in-law's consent; we go out at the command of Almighty God—the message comes from the seat of government; she went because she was hungry; we go because others are hungry; she went out that the body might be fed; we go out that the soul might be fed; her purpose was temporal; ours, eternal; she went out for her own sake and Naomi's; we go out for Christ's sake; she went to gather physical sheaves; we go to gather spiritual sheaves; when she arrived she found barley ready to be gathered into sheaves; when we go we shall find souls ready to be gathered for God—we shall find them in our own homes and in our immediate vicinity; she did not grow weary as long as the harvest lasted; we should not grow weary as long as we live and there are souls to save; she was rewarded for her faithfulness in the supplying of her wants and those of Naomi, in being blessed with a home and in the consciousness of duty done; we shall be rewarded in the supplying of spiritual wants, both of ourselves and of others, in an eternal home, and in the consciousness of duty done; what if the sheaves had remained ungathered? They would have rotted in the field. What will become of the souls that remain unsaved? The Bible teaches clearly what their eternal destiny will be. It is awful to contemplate. Then she would have come home empty-handed. Shall we come to the Lord of the harvest empty handed at last?

"Must I go and empty handed,
Must I meet my Saviour so?
Not one soul with which to greet Him?"

Must I empty handed go?"
No, but rather,
"In the beauty of the lilly,
Christ was born across the sea,

With a glory in His bosom
That transfigures you and me.
As He died to make men holy,
Let us live to make men free
While God is marching on."

The evening sermon was on the theme—"The Binding of Satan." He explained that this personage was once an angel of God, but having the power of doing right or wrong; and, choosing to rebel against God, he was cast out of heaven. Jesus says, "I beheld Satan fallen as lightning from heaven." The Bible describes him as the "adversary," the "dragon," the "serpent," the "prince of this world," the "prince of the powers of the air," the "god of this world," the "prince of the demons," and "the roaring lion." All these indicate that he is a person whose purpose is to destroy the relationship of God and set up his own authority over all. His long reign has been manifested in war, political injustice, industrial injustice, murder, profanity, impurity, and other like sins. He is to be bound by an angel with a great chain, the chain of truth, scientific truth, philosophical truth, political truth, moral truth, spiritual truth, all of which must be religiously used. That he is gradually being bound is clear from the abolition of slavery, the onward march of democracy, the growing elimination of the liquor traffic and of licensed social vice, and the tendency toward union of the people of God. After he is bound he is to remain bound for one thousand years, the period of the millennium when Christ will rule the world.
